DESCRIPTION

The fountain consists of 3 bodies of water each with a collection of vertical spray effects. The larger upper pool spills water to both a smaller mid-level pool via a single spillway and also to the lowest pool which serves as reservoir for water-in-transit for the entire system. Each of the three pools have illuminated spray effects. Pool structures are of cast-in-place concrete. Interior finishes include a liquid applied waterproofing for the pool walls and floors and a tile border around the perimeter at the waterline for each pool. Exterior finishes are of precast veneer and wall caps, and tile at the spillways.

The fountain equipment including systems for both water treatment and for spray effects are housed in a subterranean cast-in-place concrete vault with an access hatch. Completed Dec 2023.
